PRICE TWO CENTS

STREET CAR COMPANY ORDERED TO RUN CARS ON LA CROSSE STREET

CITIZENS WIN IN FIGHT FOR BETTER SERVICE ON LINE

Railroad Commission Rules and Decision Is Received in La Crosse by the Officials

CITY IS MILDLY CRITICISED

Opinion Points Out that It Is Queer that Company Has Franchise to Run Where It Pleases

TEN MINUTE SCHEDULE ORDERED

Cars to Operate There with Same Frequency Empoyed on Other Portions of the System

The railroad commission today directed the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company of La Crosse to operate its cars over that portion of the Oak Grove Cemetery line from Eighteenth street to Twenty-fifth street, on La Crosse street, in the city of La Crosse, on the same schedule under which its cars are or may be operated on the remainder of the Oak Grove Cemetery line. The commission held that this service could not be abandoned without consent of the common council of La Crosse. The order was made on complaint of David C. Jones, who charged that the service on that branch was arranged for the convenience of one class of patrons without regard to the necessities of laboring men.

The testimony showed that the company operated that portion of the line during a period from May to October and arranged its schedule for the convenience of patrons of the golf links.

The complaint also alleged that during these months the cars were not run early or late enough.

After showing the number of passengers carried on the line and quoting the provisions of the franchise under which this branch is operated, the commission says:

"It is queer that the company enjoys a permissive franchise to construct and operate a single track line on La Crosse street from Fourth street to such point as may be determined of its own free will. It has constructed and operated to a limited extent a single track line as far east on La Crosse street as Twenty-fifth street, thereby accepting the provisions and assuming the duties incident to supplying street car service. Under such circumstances it is the duty of the company to render adequate service to the full extent of its undertaking, even though such service is not remunerative, so long as it assumes to operate under the permissive ordinance. No power is vested in the commission to authorize the abandonment of any line of street railway, that matter being one over which the common council has exclusive jurisdiction.

Later in its decision, the commission says:

"The Oak Grove Cemetery line is operated on a ten minute headway throughout the year and during the summer an additional car is placed in service, the ten minute service being extended to the golf links for a portion of the day. With the existing track laid out it is impracticable to operate the portion of the line between Eighteenth street and Twenty-fifth street without the extra car and on other than a ten minute schedule since the passing tracks are placed with that schedule in view. This end of the line, if operated, must be an integral part of the line, and receive service similar to that on other parts. A ten minute schedule on this particular portion of the line will more than fulfill the requirements of adequate service, but whether a less frequent service over the entire line would be justified cannot be passed upon in this decision.

Ten Minute Schedule

"It is therefore ordered that the respondent, the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company, operate its cars over that portion of its Oak Grove cemetery line from Eighteenth street to Twenty-fifth street, on La Crosse street, in the city of La Crosse, on the same schedule under which its cars are or may be operated on the remainder of the Oak Grove cemetery line."

WILSON STUDIES CASES

WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Wilson today began a careful perusal of the evidence in the dynamite case, as the basis for his decision on their petitions for pardon.

WENDLING TO GO TO SUPREME COURT

The Committee Is in Executive Session in Chicago Today

WILL SETTLE BOARD'S AUTHORITY

Disputed Question to Be Placed Before State's Highest Tribunal in Police Row

Attorney Otto Bosshard, representing John Wendling, deposed sergeant of police, said today that an appeal will be taken from the decision of Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee, who upheld the action of the police and fire commission, and that the case will be threshed out before the state supreme court.

Wendling was discharged by the commission following the hearing of charges, preferred by members of the commission, that he has used the police auto for purposes not connected with departmental work.

Wendling appealed to the circuit court from the decision of the commission on the grounds the commission was prejudiced in advance of the trial; that the members had no authority under the city charter to prefer the charges and that the punishment was too harsh.

Wendling's offense consisted of taking three neighbors home in the police auto after a dance and stopping at a brewery enroute.

Just how much authority the police and fire commission enjoys will be settled by the supreme court if the efforts of Wendling are successful. This question has been in dispute for years.

FIRE THREATENS HOUSES

The back porch of the residence of Dr. E. A. Gatterdam, 208 South Ninth street, was partially destroyed and the residence of F. W. Fox, 214 South Ninth street, endangered in a fire which yesterday noon destroyed two wood sheds in the rear of the lots, one belonging to Dr. Gatterdam and the other to Mr. Fox. The blaze started in the shed belonging to Dr. Gatterdam, and spread to the Fox lot, before the apparatus arrived. Loss amounting to $200 was sustained.

UPHOLD SULZER OUSTER

ALBANY, N. Y., June 2.—By a unanimous decision today, the court of appeals upheld the action of the court of impeachment in removing William Sulzer as governor of New York. Sulzer's counsel, Colonel Alexander S. Bacon of Brooklyn, announced that he intends to take an immediate appeal to the United States supreme court.

LEPER AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A man identified as John Early, the alleged "leper" who recently escaped from a quarantine camp near Tacoma, Wash., after being shipped out of Washington several years ago, reached here today. He notified newspapers that he had "returned to stay." Health officials caused his detention, temporarily, at a hotel.

JILT SPOILED NERVES

CHICAGO, June 2.—Miss Georgia W. Jay was forced to use sleeping powders for two months to quiet her nerves after Homer Rochester, choir director for Evangelist Billy Sunday, refused to marry her. Frank Jay, her brother, testified today in the trial of Miss Jay's $50,000 breach of promise suit.

FINAL WORK BEING DONE FOR HOME COMING WEEK

Things are rounding into final shape for the Home-Coming and Fourth of July celebration here the last week of this month, and continuing until July 4. The decorations are being put on Main street, and the various committee heads are working hard and will have everything in shape within a few weeks.

Thousands of invitations have been mailed out to former LaCrosse residents, and people interested in La Crosse.

Watch for replies from these letters, one or two to be printed daily in this space:

ONLY 89 BODIES OF 188 RECOVERED ARE IDENTIFIED

Unknown Dead from Empress Disaster to Be Embalmed and Held for Friends

FUNERAL OF CREW NEXT MONDAY

Nine Will Be Buried with Honors from Naval and Military Forces

DELAY IMPERIAL INVESTIGATION

Will Hold Up the Probe of the Wreck for Arrival of British Representative

QUEBEC, June 2.—Only 89 of the bodies of 188 of those who perished in the Empress of Ireland disaster and which were brought here had been identified today. Ninety-nine remain unknown. The unidentified dead will be embalmed and placed in the vaults of local cemeteries, there to be held until all hope of recovery by their friends has passed. Funerals of some of the victims of the disaster, with private burials continued today.

The most notable funeral caused by the disaster will come next Monday when nine of the Empress' crew will be interred, six in Mount Hermon and three in St. Patrick's cemetery. Processions will accompany the coffins with the band of the Royal Canadian garrison artillery in the lead. Officials of the Canadian Pacific, Lieut.-Gov. Sir Francois Langier, and his staff, representatives of the naval and military forces will walk behind the caskets while a detachment of blue jackets and marines from H. M. S. Essex and of troops from the garrison will act as guards of honor.

MONTREAL, June 2.—All investigation of the Empress of Ireland disaster, it was decided here today, will await the convocation of a high court of inquiry which is to be held here June 3. On this body the imperial government will be represented by George Vaux, representing the British board of trade. Sir Adolphe Routhier of the Quebec admiralty court and Chief Justice McLeod of the New Brunswick admiralty court will represent Canada.

Both Captain Kendall of the Empress of Ireland, and Captain Anderson of the collier Storstad which sank the liner, refused further to add to their conflicting stories of the crash until they go before the high court.

REPEAL VOTE SOON

WASHINGTON, June 2.—That the vote on the tolls exemption repeal bill will be taken either late this week or early next week, seemed assured today, following a careful canvass of the senators who have not yet spoken. The poll made by Senators Simmons, Lodge and Kern, totals fifty-two votes for the repeal bill, a majority of nine.

MUNITIONS FOR REBELS.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The steamship Antilla of the Ward line sailed at noon today from her pier in Brooklyn with 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition and military equipment consigned to the rebels in Mexico.

Rumor Huerta Is Gone

VERA CRUZ, June 2.—Refugees arriving here today from Mexico City brought conflicting wild rumors about the movements and aims of General Huerta, which are rife in the capital. According to fresh arrivals, Huerta has left Mexico with his family by the east coast; Huerta has escaped by the west coast; Huerta is not going to leave Mexico, but will refuse to resign; Huerta already has resigned, placing his resignation in the hands of the Brazilian minister, to be opened on June 4, after Huerta's departure.

ODD FELLOWS TAKE LA CROSSE ANNUAL STATE SESSION IS ON REBEKAHS MEET AT ELKS' CLUB

REBEKAHS PLAN TO BUILD HOME IN NEAR FUTURE

State Convention Being Held in La Crosse During Week Takes Up a Collection

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD TODAY

Past Presidents Banquet This Afternoon Is Followed by Auto Ride Over City

SPARTA TEAM TO PUT ON WORK

New Officers to Be Elected by the Assembly at Their Session on Wednesday

Members of the Rebekah assembly, meeting here for their annual convention, took a collection this afternoon which is to be applied towards the building of a Rebekah orphan home in the state.

At the present time the home is under the supervision of the Odd Fellows, but the women hope, in the near future, to have an institution of their own.

Three Hundred Here.

Three hundred, from various parts of the state, are in La Crosse as delegates to the assembly now. More are arriving on every train and by tomorrow morning it is expected that the representatives will number 400, or possibly more.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon memorial exercises are to be conducted at the Elks' club, where the meetings of the assembly are being held. This service will be in honor of the deceased members of the order.

Sparta Team Works
At 5 o'clock a past presidents' banquet will be served and after that an automobile ride over the city is scheduled.

Tomorrow afternoon the Rebekah grand lodge degree staff is to put on degree work. These women are from Sparta and their team is known as one of the best in the state. A number of candidates are to be received into the grand lodge at this time.

The State Officers.

The work this morning consisted of the reading of reports from the various officers and also the general greeting.

The officers of the grand lodge, who will in all probability be replaced tomorrow by a new set of officers, are:

Mrs. Elsie Lantembach, Milwaukee—President.
Mrs. Bertha Noble, Stevens Point—Vice president.

Mrs. Emma Perry, Rosendale—Secretary.
Mrs. Jennie Howe, River Falls—Treasurer.

To Join I. O. O. F.
The Rebekahs will join the Odd Fellows in a hall at Linker hall tomorrow evening, and on the river excursion Friday afternoon.

ROYCRAFT SILENT

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—Thomas A. Roycraft of Chippewa Falls, who has been mentioned as a possible republican candidate for lieutenant governor, is in the city today attending the meeting of an insurance society of which he is a director. Mr. Roycraft declined to talk politics.

VAG GOES TO JAIL

Philip Doherty, a vag, was sent to jail for fifteen days in county court by Judge Brindley late yesterday afternoon.

OLD ACQUAINTANCES MEET AFTER FIFTY YEARS APART

Neither having seen the other for nearly fifty years—forty-seven to be exact—John Banderob, Oshkosh, Wis., here for the Odd Fellows' meet, today met his old friend, fellow workman and chum, Charles Hauss, on Fourth and Main streets here.

Despite the ravages of time, apparent in both, each recognized the other. There was clasping of hands, enthusiasm that was real and the two locked arms to proceed to some secluded spot, there to talk of days gone by.

The two worked together in Fond

HAVE THREE LODGES HERE NOW

German, Norwegian and American Are All Successful; Combined Membership Over 200

Odd Fellowship in La Crosse is more than 64 years old.

It was in the year of 1850—early that year—that the first lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was founded in La Crosse.

The order died down and interest was lost during the war, and local members of the order themselves do not know exactly what happened.

The Re-organization

It was in the year of 1863 that the La Crosse Valley lodge was founded. A short time later the Gateway City lodge was organized and in about 1875 the Normanna sprang into existence. All three, the American, German and Norwegian, are now in a flourishing condition. The Valley lodge has about sixty members, the Gateway City lodge 35 and the Normanna something over 60.

Interest in Odd Fellowship is greater now than ever before in La Crosse. Practically all of the old time citizens, those who helped to make the city, were members of the order. Many prominent merchants, lawyers and business men are now connected in La Crosse with the work.

Convention Helps

With the coming to this city this week of the grand lodge of the state, local Odd Fellows think that the lodges in this city will be greatly benefited.

The officers of the three lodges in the city, who are among the leaders in the work, are:

Gateway City Lodge

Sidney I. Drake, Noble Grand.
Franklin D. Branson, Vice Grand.
Paul W. Mahoney, Secretary.
William Yeo, Treasurer.

DEGREE IS GIVEN TO ODD FELLOWS AT MEETING HERE

Five Hundred from Over the State Get Grand Lodge Degree Today at Annual Session

MONSTER CROWD IS ATTENDING

Between 800 and 900 Delegates from All Over the State Are in the City for Three Days

PICK NEW OFFICERS TOMORROW

Ball Wednesday Evening and River Excursion to Be Given Thursday Social Features

Five hundred members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows received the grand lodge degree at the session of that body in Linker hall this morning.

Between 800 and 900 delegates, members of lodges in all parts of the state, are attending the gathering here this week. This is about a hundred more than were expected at the meeting.

Wednesday Important

Tomorrow will be the important day of the sixty-eighth annual session. Legislation, for the benefit of the order, is to be enacted at this time. The grand secretary has a great many matters of importance to all Odd Fellows to bring before the assembly.

This morning the various reports were given and many of the candidates were put through the grand lodge degree work.

Ball Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening there is to be a ball at Linker hall for the visiting delegates and their wives. Many of the women here to attend the Rebekah assembly. This is to be the big social event of the convention week.

River Excursion

Thursday there is to be a river excursion in the afternoon, after the business session in the morning.

Transportation will be provided for the members of the I. O. O. F. and their wives, and if possible outsiders will be permitted to go. It is not expected, however, that there will be a great deal of room as most of the Odd Fellows will attend.

Meeting a Success

Grand lodge officers say that this convention bids fair to be among the most successful ever held by the order in the state. A much larger number than usual are taking the degree work this year and the attendance is also very good.

All of the hotels in the city are filled, and the visiting delegates were furnished with a list of desirable rooms in the residence district. Scores were unable to secure hotel rooms.

To Elect Officers

The officers say that the restaurants are taking care of the crowds in an excellent manner. Many visited Pettibone and Riverside parks during the day, especially in the early morning.

The officers for the grand lodge are to be elected at the session tomorrow morning.

WILSON NOMINATES.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The president today nominated: To be minister to Salvador, Boaz W. Long of New Mexico, now chief of the division of Latin-American affairs, department of state.

To be postmaster at Evanston, Ill., George Taylor.

BURY MRS. ROSSBERG

The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte Rossberg, who died Sunday morning at the St. Francis hospital, was held this afternoon at 1:30 at the home, 328 South Twentieth street, and at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church. Rev. J. T. Gamm officiated.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THEIR GARDEN

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Phoebe Green stood looking down at the small flower box on her fire escape. She looked so long and so wistfully, that at last a tear stole down her cheek and watered one of the purple-and-yellow pansies.

The design of the little flower bed was most unusual. It was a queer mass of tiny green patches and narrow, winding spaces of bare earth. A stranger looking at it would have exclaimed, "Why! It's like a big garden."

But no stranger ever saw this flower bed. It was too intimate a thing to show. It was an exact copy of the garden that she and Aaron had dreamed of, long, long ago, before the break came. That was when Phoebe had lived at home, in the quiet little village of Hopehaven.

"We'll have our garden bordered with mignonette," Aaron had said. "I like it more than any other flower. And in the middle, we'll have a garden seat—with a high wall of sweet peas around it."

And just so was this miniature garden laid out: in its center, Phoebe had whimsically had put a small oblong block of wood, surrounded by a thin line of sweet peas.

"I guess I'm crazy," she had said to herself, as she had arranged the thing. "But I've got to have our garden anyway. I've been thinking about it so long."

They had dreamed the dream a long time. For an entire year they had been engaged. Then suddenly Letitia Swan had moved into the village, and a rumor went around that Aaron had been seen walking down the lane with her in the evenings before he dropped in on Phoebe, and that brought on the quarrel. How quickly everything had ended—everything that had seemed so sure and God-sent!

"But it's better to be a stenographer for life than to marry a man who has grown tired of you," Phoebe had reminded herself all through the lonely months of city life that had followed. "I'm better off as I am. There is no doubt that he was tired of me. Didn't Dahlia Gray see him with Letitia night after night?"

It was further proof that Aaron had scarcely protested at all when she told him that she must break the engagement. He had merely said in a half-hearted way, "I've never been walking with Letitia. You're just trying to get free, and that's why you accuse me of it."

At that he had gone. If he had really cared about her he would have denied her accusation furiously. His very calmness was proof. It was strange that just as Phoebe stood rehearsing the scene, a letter should come from the very girl who had taken so great a part in the little drama—Dahlia Gray. Eagerly, Phoebe took it from the postman's hands.

"I wonder if it mentions—him," she said softly, as she opened it above the flower box.

Indeed it did mention him. After reading a line or two, Phoebe ran her hand across her eyes, and started it again. It seemed to her that she was reading it wrong—that the words she saw could not be there!

"Dear Phoebe," it ran. "This is a letter of confession. Oh, Phoebe! How can I ever tell you? But I must tell you. I have been a sinner long enough. Yes, 'sinner' is the right word for a girl who wilfully set out to spoil another girl's life."

Phoebe sank down in a chair. She knew what was coming—she had known deep, deep down all along, it seemed now; her heart had known that Aaron loved her—that there had been some foul play. And now this strange girl was confessing—and it was too late to bring happiness!

Yet she found the strength to go. "You know I have always been a lawless thing," the girl went on. "I was spoiled in childhood. I have been allowed to ride rough-shod over everybody all my life. And so when I saw something that you had and that I wanted—oh, Phoebe, I schemed to get something! I am too ashamed to write out in plain words just what it was that I wanted. I have changed so, so much since I have been confirmed. God has given me a new honor and a new pride. But he can never give me happiness; not so long as the girl whose life I have spoiled is unhappy. I don't ask your forgiveness, Phoebe."

Phoebe did not try to detain him. She held out her hand swiftly. She felt that he was eager to get away. "Good-by," she said cheerfully. Then she started.

Aaron's eyes were fastened on something at the window. He took two great strides and bent over this something. His hand reached out

I'm just writing to tell you what I should have told you two years ago."

"Here is the truth: I loved Aaron, too. To my fifteen-year-old mind it seemed that if I could create a quarrel between you and him, he would love me. I told you that I had seen him walking evenings with Letitia Swan—a lie. But here is the worst sin: before I told you that, I told him that you had confided in me that you were tired of him and were planning to pick some quarrel with him. I told him that you rather thought of pretending that you had heard some tale of his walking secretly, with Letitia. There you have it all, every bit. When he called on you that night he expected you to accuse him."

Phoebe dropped the letter and put her head on her arm and cried. Her arm rested on the edge of the flower box, and her fingers lay in the garden that might have been a bigger garden—that might just as well have been that bigger garden.

So Aaron had loved her really. He had not denied her accusation more hotly, because he did not believe that she wanted him to—he believed that she had woven the tale just to free herself.

Convulsively her fingers clutched the little block of wood with its surrounding circle of sweet peas.

Then she sat up. She listened alertly. A knock had come at her door.

Flying to the pitcher of water she dashed a handful on her red eyelids. "Come in," she said.

It was Aaron. Phoebe stiffened. Her face grew scarlet.

"Oh, how do you do, Mr. Wood?" she stammered uneasily.

But Aaron was not uneasy. He too, was stiff and formal—but purposely so. In a flash Phoebe gathered that he had come on an errand for some one else—that the visit was as painful to him as to her. And it was a relief to see that this guess was true. She breathed more easily when he said:

"Your mother asked me to come and bring you this when I came to New York. I had to come on business. It's a nice city, isn't it?" All the time he was trying to free from his pocket a thick bundle which seemed to have stuck.

"Oh, my old sweater!" exclaimed Phoebe, as she saw the half-unwrapped package. "I suppose she thought I might want it to wear under my jacket, now that winter is coming on."

"I suppose so," said Aaron, rising. "I'm glad to have seen you, Miss Green. I'm in a pretty big hurry, so I'd better go."

Phoebe did not try to detain him. She held out her hand swiftly. She felt that he was eager to get away. "Good-by," she said cheerfully. Then she started.

Aaron's eyes were fastened on something at the window. He took two great strides and bent over this something. His hand reached out

Search for Martha Washington's Descendants

Unique Experience in Tracing Offspring of Historic Woman

The F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Company of Milwaukee recently conceived the idea of sending a souvenir to all of the descendants of Martha Washington as a fitting token of esteem to the "Mother of our country" after whom their Martha Washington Shoe is named.

When they set about to carry out this seemingly simple matter, something interesting happened. Claimed kinship to the illustrious Martha developed to such an alarming extent that the project was given up.

This famous lady was blessed with two children, a daughter and a son, by a former marriage, John Parke Curtis. The latter married early in life and had several children, among them Nellie, who was married to George Washington's nephew, Lawrence Lewis.

Now Lewis is something of a common name, and the Mayer company decided to start by investigating the Lewis's, intending to follow this up with the Dandrige's and the Curtis's, the former being Mrs. Washington's maiden name and the latter her first husband's name.

But they never got further than the Lewis's. From a few agents selected to make the initial test, the reports came in that nearly every Lewis approached claimed direct or collateral descent from the good Martha.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dahl made an auto trip to Madison.

H. D. Williams has gone to Waukegan to take baths at the sanitarium there.

Mrs. Ike Morris returned from Mendota, where she visited her husband.

Dr. Bert Tainter of Milwaukee, formerly of Viroqua, was married to Miss Edna Sehn of that city.

Frank Chase of Spokane, visited friends in the city for a day. He has been in the southern part of the country and stopped here enroute to his home.

Frank Krower of Genoa has purchased the Tuhus home.

Mrs. Earl M. Rogers made a brief visit with friends in La Crosse.

Some men are foolish enough to work so hard during the day that they are too lame to dance the tango in the evening.

and touched the tiny toy and the circle of sweet peas.

Then he turned. "That's a good idea for a flower bed," he said dryly.

Phoebe met his eyes with fire in hers.

"Isn't it splendid?" she said coldly. "The little girl next door laid it out in that queer design. Poor child, she has no playhouse but that."

But Aaron was not to be cheated a second time. Taking two more great strides, he had his hands on Phoebe's shoulders, and was looking deep into her eyes.

"Come," he said sharply. "Let's have no shams. I love you. Do you love me? I didn't come here to bring that sweater; that was just an excuse. I came to see if you still cared for me. Dahlia Gray said that she had half an idea that you did; she said she gathered from your letters—"

But there was no need to question further. The shaking form in his arms told him.

And an hour later found them still clinging together, but this time they were standing over the little fire escape garden.

THE WISCONSIN "PORK BAR'L"

The figures of the Wisconsin Legislative Budget for 1912-13, created and adopted by "progressive" votes and influence, conclusively answer every "progressive" defense of the state administration's record of profligate extravagance.—One solitary "No."

(Political advertisement authorized and to be paid for by W. E. Barber.)

(By W. E. Barber.)

Hon. J. E. McConnell, ex-assemblyman from the first district of La Crosse county, takes issue with me on the statement that it costs four millions two hundred thousand dollars per year to run our state university. I based my statement upon the budget appropriation made at the last session of our legislature for the university, which is, to be exact, $4,280,000.00. I have no intention of misleading any one as to our state's expenses, for the facts are sufficient. The following schedule of appropriations which comprise the budget passed at the last session of the legislature, and upon which our last tax levy was based, may give food for further criticism of Mr. McConnell as to my trying to mislead the taxpayers and play dishonest politics.

It seems to me that our progressive friends should not leave the matter of laying the facts and figures before the voters of this state to one whose honesty they can question if they were entering this campaign fearless of the consequences of their own acts. It does not savor of open and above-board dealing with the people, when they hear them complaining of their burdensome taxes, that they don't trot out the budget and show the taxpayers what their money is being spent for instead of trying to sneak back through an extra session of the legislature and put back some of their loot. The cry comes from every corner of the state, "I would like to know what our taxes are being used for," and the only answer is the echo of their wailing cry. If ye are men, trot out your budget and justify your extravagance. You can trust the people to stand by you if your actions justify their confidence, but you can't play the confidence game on them again with nothing but empty mockery, "progressive" or "Wisconsin Idea" to recommend you. The people want the truth and they are entitled to it, and if it hurts come back at us, as Mr. McConnell has, and we will give you the figures just as we have this time.

Just a word dear reader before you diagnose the Pork Barrel. It might interest you to know that this stupendous budget passed the legislature in just two hours after it was presented to them with just one "solitary No" against it, and that was cast by Mr. J. E. McConnell's successor, Mr. C. L. Hood, who opposed it, in a most ringing speech warning the members that they were voting a mortgage of ten per cent of the value of every farm in this state upon the taxpayers. But nothing would stem the tide of reckless extravagance and you are now galling under the joke of a burden of taxation placed there by these men that are hiding behind the subterfuge of progressivism and criticize the men who are trying to give you the facts from the only records available, the Session Laws. The schedule below is not complete as we were not able to get the salary budget, and many of the commissions which would add several millions of dollars, but never mind—you will get it in your taxes just the same. We will furnish the rest in our next invoice.

It is my impression that Mr. McConnell's imputation was a little more severe than it would have been had he been fully advised as to the true status of things. He is a little out of touch with state affairs, he having been out of office a couple of years, and it don't take long for his progressive crowd to progress a couple of million dollars.

Mr. McConnell deprecates the fact that our state university is being drawn into politics. We would like to ask Mr. McConnell who is responsible for it. Is it not a fact that when Mr. LaFollette and his supporters took possession of our state's affairs that the university was unknown in political discussions? It stood as a tower of strength against either political or religious creeds, but now it is the center of the political arena and is the political censor of the state. We agree with Mr. McConnell that it is a shame and disgrace but it is one of the assets of progressivism and is fast losing its dignity. Mr. McCarty at one time athletic director of the university, is now drawing the fabulous salary of $5,000.00 per year as political censor of that institution and it is said that no legislation passes without his O. K.

Another important item of unjust taxation is found in the tuition charged outside students. That is, a student entering our university from outside the state pays $70 per year tuition. It costs the state $502.00 per year for every student attending the university and as there are 1,385 non-resident students, this makes a loss of $598,320.00 which the taxpayers must stand. This is the cause of the enormous attendance at our state university.

The budget following we believe will give the taxpayers a very comprehensive idea of the extravagance of our "progressive" friends and if we are getting value received for this enormous sum we would like to know where it is.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Squirrels
Have a Jolly Peanut Hunt.

One Old Squirrel
Found the Peanuts.

JACK and Evelyn had enjoyed a peanut hunt that afternoon at a children's party they had gone to. They told daddy about it when he came home. He told them that he had heard of a peanut hunt the squirrels once had.

"That sounds more fun than even ours was," said Evelyn, "for one always thinks of squirrels enjoying peanuts so much. In fact, any kind of a nut makes a squirrel happy."

"A little girl named Polly," began daddy, "lived near a park. In this park were a great many squirrels. They were principally gray, with green long bushy tails, and they were very tame. Polly had often fed them peanuts, but she thought it would be lots of fun to have a real peanut hunt."

"So one afternoon she invited three of her best friends to join her, and together they went to the park."

"Each child had a bag of peanuts, and they ran around just as quickly as they could hiding the peanuts and gently driving the squirrels away if they went near a hiding place. One little girl would sit on a bench so the squirrels could come and look inside the bag she held. That gave the others a good opportunity for hiding them."

"When they were all hidden the little girl threw away her bag."

"There were now ever so many squirrels gathered about, and when they looked and saw no peanuts in the bag they were so disappointed, and yet they were sure that they had smelt them and so did not give up all hope."

"Then one very old fat squirrel found three peanuts hidden under a rock."

"He called to the other squirrels and waved his bushy tail in the air, trying to say, 'There are peanuts if we will hunt for them!'"

"And then it seemed to dawn on the other squirrels that it was a peanut hunt. They had hunted for nuts before, but they had never heard of a peanut hunt being given for them. But this certainly did seem to be what all these peanuts hidden so plentifully and so near at hand must mean."

"Such a hurrying and scurrying as there was and how the little friends of Polly did enjoy it. Polly knew it would be a success, for she was so fond of squirrels and thought they were very bright and clever."

"The squirrels didn't stop to eat the peanuts after they discovered that there were so many hidden. They just kept on getting more and more until finally they had succeeded in finding them all."

"Then they began to carry the peanuts to their little homes, and they looked so happy, just as if they were free from cares or worries for days to come, for, of course, they didn't have to worry about meals forever and ever so long with the wonderful supply they now had on hand."

this first day of June, 1914.A. E. BLECKMAN, Notary Public.Glad Hand Is Out
FOR I. O. O. F. MENThe glad hand is extended by La Crosse today to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the members of the Rebekah assembly, meeting here in their sixty-eighth annual state convention.The Odd Fellow order stands for "Friendship, Love and Truth," the three links of the chain. Members of the order carry out the high ideals of their ritual and are better citizens and husbands because of their membership.La Crosse welcomes the grand lodge of the order to the city for the first time. The Tribune joins most heartily in extending this welcome."THEY DON'T WANT IT"
"THEY DON'T NEED IT"A local paper intimates that the Coupon Ballot should not be used in Mexico because (as this paper believes) there is no one in Mexico who wants honest elections. That same class also believes that it should not be used in Wisconsin because there are no corrupt elections here.There is another class of critics, small in number, we believe, who object to the Coupon Ballot because they honestly question its effectiveness. To them we concede the legitimacy of their argument, although we question the accuracy of their conclusions. But we have no patience with those whose stand is pa-lpatly neither disinterested nor fair.Why don't these critics come out with the real reason as to why they do not want the Coupon Ballot to succeed? If they would say that they do not believe in anythingwhich makes voting easy and reliable for the laborers as well as the aristocrats they would uncover the real reason.Any plan which makes for the success of popular government is another rock on the grave in which mon-archism was buried July 4th, 1776.The followers of Alexander Hamilton cannot approve.They do not like the primary election reform because it places the matter of choosing candidates for political parties up to the whole people. They would, of course, prefer that the people should choose public officers, if they must be allowed to choose them, from a list of "sane and sane" previously selected by the chosen few, in conventions to which poor men cannot afford to go.The success of the Coupon Ballot may mean further fortifying the primary election law which this class is still in hopes of taking away from the people during some wave of protest which may arise.Mr. Dunn has taken high but mistaken ground in seeking to gain popular approbation by urging the mechanical merits of his ballot. If he had laid special stress upon the reform which the move contains he would have been farther ahead with it today.Any development in government which simplifies and makes more practical the exercise of the will of a majority of all the people is sure to bring upon itself the discouragement of people who do not believe all the people should rule.TO CATCH SQUIRELS MAKE A NOISE LIKE A NUTWe note that the Milwaukee Sentinel has invented a superlative by which to designate papers which it honors with the concession of a superior stalwartism. It refers to the Appleton Post as a "superstalwart."Also, The Sentinel speaks of those who want a fair and square and reasonable reform program put through at Madison."Reform"—poor, despised, beloved, enchanted word! And now The Sentinel, which scorned it yesterday, does it with a matron's pride in her Easter bonnet. Think of The Sentinel turning reformer to reform the reforms.A pretty predicament! The wolf's fangs, showing through the "sheep's clothing," expose the masquerader;
but if the wolf gets his dentist to complete the disguise, the disguise is worthless, because, without his fangs, he can't eat "Red Riding Hood."The Sentinel will find "reform" a disguise as effective as that adopted by the timorous gentleman who hid from his wife in a salt pork barrel.When the good lady approached, fearing detection, he reinforced his deception by squealing like a pig.

CHURCH TOO PRIMITIVE

CHICAGO, June 2.—Declaring that the methods of the "primitive church of Christ," are too primitive for a city, several persons living near the tent "cathedral" of the church, appeared in police court today to testify against Rev. L. V. Roberts and nine members of the congregation, including five women, who were arrested last night. Neighbors complained that loud singing, louder shouting and yells of converts kept them awake.

His Way

A frog sat on a lily pad—
It was a way he had.
A slim and stylish dragon-fly,
Alighting on a leaf close by,
Addressed him airily:"My green young friend, wake up,"
said he;
"Your method's foolish, can't you see?"You ought to hurry round like me—
Not sprawl there idly all the day,
Waiting for things to come your way.
Move on, I say."The frog moved on. His mouth stretched wide;
It closed again. Alas, for pride!
Where was the fly? Inside.And then he smiled so dreamily—
"My way," said he.

A New Line of Art

The red headed and dissatisfied boarder was a large man with a large appetite, says the Popular Magazine. After dinner he went into the narrow yard, shook both fists at the silvery moon, hurled several imprecations toward the congress of the stars and burst forth into a picturesque and voluminous flood of abuse which was devoted entirely to the landlady.One of the other boarders, who had been at the house a long time, thereby accumulating a pallid look and a palate with corns on it, drew near timidly and ventured to ask what the special kick was."What's the matter?" echoed the large man. "That old dame's the first woman I ever knew who could literally paint food on a plate."

Nothing to Forgive

"I may seem a brute, Mabel," said the innocent young man, "but I ought to tell you that last night, at your party, your sister promised to marry me. Will you forgive me for taking her away?""Forgive you?" replied she, "why that's what the party was for!""And do you really love me, George?" she asked.
"Love you," repeated George, fervently. "Why, while I was bidding you good-bye in the vestibule last night, dear, the dog bit a large chunk out of my leg, and I never noticed it until I got home."

Congratulations

A Polish couple came before a justice of the peace to be married. The young man handed him the marriage license, and they stood up before him.

"Join hands," said the justice.

They did so and the justice looked at the document which authorized him to unite in matrimony Zacharwicz Perzynski and Leokowads Jelinski."Aham," he said. "Zacha-h-m-ski, do you take this woman?" etc."Yes, sir," responded the young man."Leo-h-m-h-m-ski, do you take this man to be?" etc.

"Yes, sir," replied the woman.

"Then I pronounce you man and wife," said the justice, glad to find something he could pronounce, "and I heartily congratulate you both on having reduced those two names to one."MARVEL

The Great New Historical Romance
John
O' Jamestown
By VAUGHN KESTER
Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company"Am I to understand that the gentleman is pleased to doubt any part of my poor share in this trifling adventure, which I am telling merely for the solace of our company?"There was another pause, but very brief this time, and the interruper said:

"God forbid!"

And with such unmistakable fervour that there was another burst of laughter, but this time smothered and wholly respectful."I would have it so," said the voice that I now knew belonged to him they called Captain. "I say, we fought under different conditions. First, we rode at each other discharging our pistols, by which no harm was done; whereupon we fell to with our axes, and so strongly that sometimes one, and sometimes the other had hard work to keep his saddle. Indeed, it went ill with me, for I received such a blow that I lost my battle ax and was nearly unhorsed, whereas a great shout went up from the ramparts. My adversary prosecuted his advantage to the uttermost of his powers, and had it not been for the readiness of my horse and my own judgement in such matters I must have been slain. But by God's assistance, I not only avoided the Turk's onslaught, but having drawn my sword
I pierced him through the back and body, so that he was obliged to quit his horse, and he stood not long ere he lost his head, as the rest had done. The whole army was so pleased with me that I was taken in triumph to the general's pavilion with a guard of six thousand men and three horses, before each of which was borne a Turk's head on a lance. The Prince received me with great honour and bestowed upon me a fair horse, richly furnished, and a cimeter and belt worth three hundred ducats."All this while I was becoming more and more alert, and with the third Turk slain, in whose fate I had taken a vague and sleepy sort of interest, I was disposed to know more of my surroundings. Turning slightly, I found I could move my hands and feet. I recalled that the last time I had attempted this I had suffered cruelly; clearly my condition was improved. My heavy eyes opened, but they were looking at the back of the bandages that had fallen down over my face so that I was as one blindfolded. However,
I made shift to raise my hand and pushed these back out of the way.
Close above me was an oaken ceiling, which was crossed by square timbers. I might have touched these beams with my hand had I wished. That it was night-time I knew by the quality of the light in the place, and moving my head a little I saw a great lantern where it hung from a hook midway of the ceiling. With infinite difficulty I managed to turn further on my side, which brought my face toward the light, and saw a group of men who were seated about a table placed in the center of what seemed to be a small, low room. They were still talking, but my concern was now all centered in myself, and beyond the fact that I distinguished the sound of voices, I knew nothing of what was going forward.Of the group about the table I noticed one more particularly, for he first came under my glance, a big, bearded fellow with fierce moustaches, in the dress of a soldier. His companions, of whom there were half a score, were of many sorts, judging by their attire; some richly dressed, and others in frayed doublets that had seen much hard usage; others again wore Monmouth caps on their heads, coats of mail, and Irish stockings. With all my eyes, I stared at the group under the lantern, and as it swung to and fro the beams and woodwork creaked and groaned, and my bed rose and sank never for a moment was it still!Then all of a sudden someone cried out:"Faith, Captain, your bunk-fellow's come to life!"Whereat the bearded man I had first noticed sprang quickly off the chest where he was seated and strode to my side."Eh, lad, how fare you?" he asked in a deep, full voice as he bent over me. For all his great beard and fierce moustaches of a reddish colour, and his tanned and weather-beaten skin, he looked atme from out of a pair of the kindest blue eyes conceivable.

"Where am I?" I asked.

I had expected to say this aloud, but the words came painfully from my lips in an almost inaudible whisper."Where are you?" And he gave a great cheery laugh. "Why, tosling off the Downs, to a sure, waiting for a favourable wind."But I did not understand what he meant by this."Is your cracked head better?"
he asked after a moment's pause."How long have I lain so?" I demanded.

He pursed up his bearded lips.

"Why, to say true, a goodish time. They said you were drunk and had got a broken head in some tavern brawl, and they dumped you in with the drunken riffraff forward, but I spied you out and had you brought hither, for I liked not the look of that cracked head of yours. Do you rest easy? Master Watton, the surgeon will be here presently to put fresh bandages on your hurts, and if he says you can take it, I'll fetch you some food."But I had been staring hard into the face of the speaker, and memory had been very busy with me. I was thinking of a Sunday long past."John Smith," I cried, or rather whispered, for with all the energy that went into the exclamation the result was no more than a whisper."John Smith, neither more nor less," said John Smith."How came I here, and where am I?" I asked."How you came by your broken head is more than I can tell you.
As for where you are, that is readily answered: You are aboard the ship Susan Constant, and by grace of contrary winds we are this moment in the Channel, where we have been this week past; all of which time you have lain like one dead."

"At sea?"

And for a moment all things turned black before my eyes."Hold hard!" cried John Smith.
"You have got back your wits, so abide with them."

AGGIE SCHOOL TO PICNIC TOMORROW

The annual picnic of the LaCrosse County Agricultural school will be given tomorrow. The students will leave the school at one o'clock, and will "hike" to the head of French Island, where they will assemble for the last informal gathering of the school year. For twenty-two young people, it will mean the last time that they will meet under the name of the school.

Class day exercises will be held at the school Thursday, commencing at 2 o'clock. The senior play, "Back to the Farm" will be given Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the New Crystal theater in Onalaska. Commencement exercises will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock followed by the alumni banquet at 6:30 and the alumni ball at 8:30 at the school.

GO TO CHENEY FUNERAL

E. G. Atkins, superintendent of the Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee and C. L. V. Cheney, general superintendent of the fuel department of the Milwaukee road, who died Friday night at his home in Milwaukee.

Rheumatic Fever

In the treatment of Rheumatic Fever many physicians employ purgatives, but Dr. M. P. Creed thinks that a mild laxative is better. When the patient is bilious he gives calomel in small doses, one-fifth of a grain every hour until a grain has been taken. Then after four hours he gives the patient a half ounce of citrate of magnesia, with syrup of lemon to disguise the taste, or he keeps the bowels open with the mild laxative "Actoids." The diet should be light and all animal food should be excluded as far as possible from the diet. For the pain and fever he gives nothing equal to Anti-Kamnia Tablets, giving two tablets every 2 to 3 hours as required. These tablets may be obtained from all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for A-K Tablets. Unexcelled for Headaches, Neuritis, and All Pain.
P. S. Skin troubles readily yield to A-K Salve.

NORTH SIDE

INTENSIVE FARMING
OF "YOUNG IDEA"

Board of Education Will Drop All but Five Studies in Experimental Class
Next Fall

CONSOLIDATE THREE CLASSES

Eighth Grade of About 100
Pupils Will Get Daily Lessons in Practical Things

"Intensive farming," as applied to teaching the young idea now to shoot, will be tried out on the north side next fall, according to the decision of the board of education at their meeting last night. Instead of teaching "dabs" of a dozen subjects, as Superintendent L. P. Benetz expressed it this morning, the curriculum will be cut to five essentials in the eighth grade.

The essential studies to be taught are English, mathematics, history and civics, manual training and cooking, spelling and penmanship.

Dropped Music and Drawing.
Of the dozen or more studies formerly taught in the eighth grade the more important ones to be dropped are calisthenics, music, drawing and geography. Mr. Benetz explained that in these departments a good groundwork has been obtained in the lower grades.

The practical tendency in education is seen in the announcement that the new eighth grade curriculum will include daily lessons in manual training and cooking.

The eighth grades and advanced seventh grades in the Franklin and Jefferson schools will be abandoned next fall and class of about 100 at the Logan school and a seventh-A class of about 30. The Logan school which up to the present has had no seventh and eighth grades, lies between the Franklin and Jefferson schools on the north side.

Five Teachers.
The new eighth grade class, to study under the new curriculum, will have a specially large room in the Logan school, formed by removing a partition. There will be five teachers, and the classes will be run on the same system as at the high school. Incidentally, the consolidation will enable the board of education to get along with one less teacher.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades at the Logan school will be distributed among the other two schools on the north side.

Make Fire Escape.
Arrangements were made last night for the erection of a fire escape at the Lincoln school, which has been constructed entirely by the boys of the machine shop in the Hixon manual training annex to the high school.

The grounds and buildings committee was authorized to make changes in the plumbing at the high school, looking toward stopping the floods which heavy rains have backed up from the Cass street sewer into the basement since the school was built.

Supply contracts were let for next year, and the following new teachers were engaged: Misses Helen Hudson, Ruth Kirkland, Helen Jorton, and Margaret Eberle and Mr. Homer Leach, who taught here two years ago.

Four Windows.
The manual training department of the schools will have four windows for Made in La Crosse Week, the board decided last night.

HOW TO STOP STOMACH TORMENT

Sound Advice from a Well Known Physician

Men and women who suffer from what they call Dyspepsia, Indigestion or just plain "stomach trouble" usually seek regular relief in the form of some peptic pill or tablet, or other artificial digestant. This, experience teaches me, is a serious error. In nine cases out of ten, the distress is caused by the development of acids in the stomach—formed by the fermenting of the food. Instead of a digestant being required, something should be taken to dissolve or neutralize this acidity, when normal digestion will follow as a matter of course. This acid matter is distinctly poisonous and unless it is dissolved, digesting merely carries the mass of fermenting food from the stomach to the intestines, where its poison is absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body.

If all the great army of people who suffer after nearly every meal would make it a point to take a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in a quarter glass of water after each meal, there would be no formation of acidity and consequently no distress or discomfort. Sour, acid, gassy stomach, heartburn, belching, bloating, etc., would then be a thing of the past. "Bisurated Magnesia" is a physician's prescription. It is inexpensive and can be obtained at any drug store. It is prepared for just such trouble and the best proof of its efficiency is that it will stop the sharpest, biting stomach distress in five minutes from the time it enters the stomach, simply by dissolving the acids that have been formed there. Its action is absolutely harmless.

KEEP "IN FORM"

This really means keeping the digestion good, the liver active and the bowels free from constipation. You are then ready to "play the game" to win. For any disturbance in the digestive functions

Stomach Bitters

has been proven very helpful. You should try it, but insist on getting HOSTETTER'S.

Representatives of 72,000 Men Break Off Negotiations with the Managers

MAY CALL REFERENDUM VOTE

Notice of Appeal Will Be Served Soon; Deposed
Sergeant to Put Punishment to Test

CHICAGO, June 2.—A majority of the 72,000 engineers, firemen and engine-men, employed on railroads west of Chicago, will vote to strike unless their demands for increased wages are conceded by the railroads in the opinion of officials of the various trainmen's organizations today.

Negotiations with the general managers' committee were broken off last night. The committee representing the employees opened an all day executive session here today. Plans for taking a referendum strike vote were to be discussed.

The managers declared the demands of the employees were not warranted by business conditions, and that to grant them would increase their yearly payrolls by about $33,000,000.

TO STOP COAST TRAINS

For the accommodation of tourists, the Milwaukee coast train No. 18, due here at 1:30 in the afternoon, will stop on signal at Kibbourn during this month for passengers bound to points east of Kibbourn. The train will make regular stops there during July, August and September, the months when tourist travel is the greatest.

SWAT THE FLY!

ANTIGO, Wis., June 2.—A business firm of this city has this year taken charge of the Anti-Fly crusade and is encouraging children to work by supplying sytters free of charge. In addition the firm will give a camera to the child bringing in the greatest number of dead flies before June 6.

WRECK HURTS FIVE.

TOLEDO, O., June 2.—Five persons were badly injured near here early today when an automobile threw a tire and rolled down an embankment.

Omnivorous Readers.
"Rhodes was an omnivorous reader." This expression, gleaned from a recent biography of Cecil Rhodes, is recommended to the serious reflection of those who scout the habit of reading as an enervating practice, certain to unfit a man for success in practical pursuits. This notion that only intellectual bookworms and recluses read many books is one of the greatest fallacies ever. The truth is the majority of men of great achievement in every walk of life have been, like Cecil Rhodes, "omnivorous readers." Gladstone, Tolstoy and Lincoln are frequently referred to as the three greatest characters of the nineteenth century. The three of them were tireless students. Tolstoy knew several literatures. Gladstone read books on every possible occasion the year around. Lincoln was an insatiable reader.

For Tight Teeth and Healthy Gums Use "Drucio"
Riggs' Disease—soreness gums, loosening of the teeth, is one of the most stubborn complaints to conquer! Take a mouthful two or three times daily, rinse the mouth thoroughly with "DRUCIO" (nothing to harm you even if you should swallow it), and then watch the gums grow firm and healthy again—watch the poisonous secretions stop—watch the teeth tighten up solid. It's only one of the many good uses for "DRUCIO".

PRESERVE HISTORIC PLACES OF THE STATE

BEAVER DAM, Wis., June 2.—Conventions of the Women's clubs in the second and third districts of this state will be held here and at Richland Center this week and it is expected that the chief topic to be discussed will be the marking points of historic interest in this state.

Many of the clubs have been active in the past in marking such places. Among those who have won recognition through their work are the clubs at Faraboo, Waukesha, Kenosha, La Crosse and Madison.

Mrs. E. H. Van Orden is now chairman of the landmarks committee and it is said that under her direction a number of clubs will start working for the dedication of land marks. The Wisconsin Archaeological club has prepared a list of places which might be marked.

He is well known and popular in La Crosse, having resided here for many years. He is not a novice in the tobacco business, having been for many years connected with Adam Foerschler in the latter's place, now owned by Stringer & Steinmetz.

Until recently he has been associated with his brother in Chicago.

TELL HOW MORGAN CRUSHED MUTINY

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Officials in charge of the interstate commerce commission's inquiry into the acquisition of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton line by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad said today that further testimony would include a story of how J. P. Morgan blocked a nearly successful attempt of the Price-Erb-Zimmerman syndicate to overthrow his control of the middle west railroad situation and set up a new railroad dynasty.

Officials said they expect to bring out that Morgan bought the C. H. and D to serve as a wedge to prevent his control being crushed.

WM. ROCKEFELLER WILL BE FORCED TO GIVE EVIDENCE

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Despite certificates of physicians that if William Rockefeller testified before the interstate commerce commission it will endanger the magnate he will be forced to tell what he knows of the "wrecking" of the New Haven railroad, according to an announcement by Joseph H. Folk, counsel for the commission today. Francis McAdams, Folk said, has seen Rockefeller and has made a report that he is able to tell his story.

QUITS WINTERS CASE

DETECTIVE GETS INTO QUARREL WITH PROSECUTOR AND TAKES EVIDENCE AWAY WITH HIM

NEWCASTLE, Ind., June 2.—With Detective Robert H. Abel having left the Winters case in a huff, declaring that he took with him valuable dictograph evidence that was necessary to the state's case against Dr. W. A. Winters, Mrs. Winters and William Ross Cooper, the impression here today was that the rapid developments of yesterday had made no advance towards a solution of the mystery surrounding the disappearance of California Winters, over a year ago.

The quarrel between Abel and Prosecutor Myers was the last development yesterday.

Abel declared he had dropped the case and would not return to it unless a special grand jury were called and a special prosecutor appointed.

It is said here that a special grand jury will be called very soon and that it is likely Abel's request for a special prosecutor will be heeded.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 2.—Louis Wien, head of the Wien Detective agency, under whose direction Robert H. Abel has been working on the Winters case, said today that he and Abel now agreed that it was "a very foolish move" to file charges against Dr. W. A. Winters with Mrs. Winters, stepmother of Catherine, and W. R. Cooper. He said Dr. Winters knew nothing of the alleged murder.

PROTEST TRUST PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Protests against the provisions of the proposed anti-trust legislation affecting railroads were made before the senate interstate commerce committee today by Judge Lovett of the Union Pacific, and A. P. Thom, general counsel of the Southern Pacific.

CONVICT BLACKHANDER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 2.—Charles Vite, an Indian, was today on his way to Leavenworth prison, Milwaukee's first convicted Black Hand. He wrote a letter to Albert Comfort of Kenosha demanding $500.

SANCTION STRIKE

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Strikes and peaceful picketing were sanctioned by the house this afternoon when the Webb amendment to the Clayton anti-trust bill was agreed to almost unanimously, making such acts of strikers not unlawful under the Sherman law.

SUICIDE UNKNOWN

CHICAGO, June 2.—With only the clothing and a ring to guide them, the police today were seeking identification for a man who killed himself early today in front of a residence on Leland avenue.

FILE THAW APPEAL

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The fight for liberty of Harry K. Thaw reached the supreme court of the United States this afternoon. The record in the case was filed in an appeal by Sheriff H. A. Drew of Coos county, N. H., from the decision of Federal Judge Aldrich, sustaining the writ of habeas corpus sought by Thaw.

GRADUATION DAY BIG ACHIEVEMENT

St. Francis Hospital Turns Out Class Which Wins High Compliments in Addresses of Day

FORM AN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Officers Elected and Many Former Graduates Return to Take Part in Exercises

Graduation exercises of the trainee nurse school at St. Francis hospital yesterday included all the various features of a college commencement program. The more important were:

Morning mass of thanksgiving, accompanied by a benediction with the sacrament.

Graduating exercises, with presentation of diplomas at Recital hall, 3 p. m.

Noonday luncheon given graduating class by juniors.

Six o'clock dinner.

Class play presented by the junior nurses.

The Graduates

Following are the names of the graduating class:
Sister M. Marina.
Sister M. Gervase.
Agnes E. Bill.
Elizabeth C. Kaiser.
Anna Mae Coleman.
Gertrude G. Ludwig.
Marie S. Scheffer.

Form Alumni Association

An alumni association was formed, of which officers were elected as follows:

Honorary president, Sister Theodore; active president, Anna M. Schwartz, '05; first vice president, Maud Murphy, '10; second vice president, Marie Scheffer, '14; secretary, Sister Beata; treasurer, Mary Regan, '12.

About eighteen alumni were in attendance, and others have joined by letter. It is hoped that all who have graduated since the school was organized in 1905 will become members.

The graduating exercises opened with a march, a piano duet, nicely rendered, followed by two selections by a well trained chorus of forty voices.

Addresses were given by Dr. Edward Evans and John F. Doherty, in which stress was laid upon the noble character of the calling, woman's peculiar fitness for it, and devotion, humanity and the tenderness of religious character were emphasized as essentials to true achievement. This earnest advice made a deep impression upon many whose families had been nursed through sickness in the institution.

Rev. Father Gerard Sluyter presented the diplomas in an earnest address.

In Green and White

The table decorations at the six o'clock dinner were green and white, carnations of those colors predominating among the flowers. Dr. Egan officiated as toastmaster, and the dinner was most pleasant.

The class play, a humorous incident involving the problems and perplexities of a pleasant little romance, was well done by the juniors who, under the direction of Miss Schwartz, acquitted themselves excellently.

Throughout the day's exercises the untiring work of the juniors and their coach were manifest.

ALL PROGRESSIVES ON STATE TICKET

Wolfe Declares Aylward-Davies Ring Will Have Candidates of Wilson Stripe in Field

WOLFE SURE OF COLLECTORSHIP

Word Passed to Friends of Williams at Milwaukee Meeting that He Has Been Selected

"There is one thing that is positive—there will be a thoroughly progressive, Wilson democratic state ticket in the field this fall."

This was the declaration of Attorney William F. Wolfe, who with state central committeeman, John C. Burns, returned this morning from Milwaukee, where the state central committee yesterday, by a vote of 12 to 10, turned down the application of the Karel-Bolens clique for a state convention.

"There was no fighting at the convention," said Mr. Wolfe. "We had the votes and the Karel game was knocked in the head. We are going to put up progressives for every state office."

Mr. Wolfe declined to state whether or not he would make the run as the progressive gubernatorial candidate.

In Milwaukee it was an accepted fact that Mr. Wolfe had been selected to succeed Herbert Manson as revenue collector for the western district. Word was passed to friends of Bert Williams, the Ashland candidate, that Wolfe had been selected.

CARRANZA FORCES CRISIS IN EFFORT TO AVERT STRIFE

and the Constitutionalists completely "out in the cold." They are regarded as the most powerful factor today in Mexican affairs and any settlement which they would not accept would be well-nigh futile.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 2.—The fate of the mediation proceedings hung in the balance today. General Venustiano Carranza, "first chief" of the constitutionalists, has brought on a crisis by his fiery statement of just what he would and would not accept as proper action by the mediators, and has further complicated the situation by demanding admission to the conferences, after having once refused to send a representative.

The A. B. C. mediators are not disposed to let Carranza send a delegate to the conference, although this is the foundation upon which rests the United States' intention to continue in the negotiations.

The Mexican delegates are non-committal. What they want is a hasty settlement that will save Huerta's face. They have at no time expressed a desire to exclude the constitutionalists from the proceedings.

Order Arms Embargo

WASHINGTON, June 2.—That a further embargo against shipment of arms from the United States to Mexico has been ordered by one of the executive departments, was stated on good authority this afternoon.

The embargo order did not reach New York in time to prevent sailing of the Antilla with munitions for the rebels.

The Ward liner Antilla left this afternoon with 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition and other equipment.

PHILHARMONIC ENDS ITS FIRST SEASON

President Leigh Toland of the Philharmonic society, today announced that the musical organization will close its first season next Sunday, with a meeting in the W. B. U. assembly hall.

At the end of its first year, the Philharmonic society is in excellent shape, Mr. Toland declared today. He said that all bills have been paid, and the society now has a surplus of nearly $200.

Speaking of the society's future, Mr. Toland said today:

"In every way the future looks good and the people of La Crosse are now guaranteed an orchestra that will soon be a credit to the city and one of the best advertisements. Those who are interested in instruments should avail themselves of a membership in this society. The dues are only one dollar per month and the advantages are many. Now is the time to come in. All Philharmonic members are urged to be present and make the last rehearsal a 'boomer.' Union members are cordially invited."

The woman who pawns her engagement ring for $1,700 and can't remember where, naturally loses the ticket.

Colonel Roosevelt will not waste his time being governor of New York. It does not begin to pay a dollar a word.

SURETY COMPANIES CAN SIGN THE BONDS FOR SALOON MEN

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—Attorney General Walter C. Owen today repudiated the statement in Milwaukee credited to him that bonding companies cannot serve as sureties for saloonkeepers. He said that either a surety company or two holders might sign the bond.

"I have rendered no opinion to the effect that a surety company could not sign a liquor license bond," he said, "but on the contrary I have ruled as did Attorney General Gilbert that a liquor bond may be so signed. The report that this department has held that the system of bonding the saloonkeepers through bonding companies is illegal is erroneous."

CUMMINS IS CHOICE

IOWA ELECTIONS GIVE THE SENATOR 25,000 LEAD OVER SAVAGE IN PRIMARY YES.

TERDARY

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 2.—Early incomplete returns from yesterday's state-wide primary election indicate that Senator A. B. Cummins, republican, has been renominated over Savage by from 25,000 to 30,000, and that Congressman Maurice Connolly of Dubuque captured the democratic nomination over E. T. Meredith. Des Moines publisher by from 10,000 to 20,000. The vote was very light.

For governor, George W. Clarke polled between 90,000 and 100,000 votes against 65,000 for Judge C. G. Lee, with John W. Rowley a poor third. John W. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids has about 85,000 to 42,000 for V. R. McGinnis of Leon.

Early returns indicate that the bull moose candidates polled a very light vote, none at all in many precincts. The republican vote is about the same as in 1912 and the democrats have shown a gain in the total vote.

The socialists nominated a full ticket but the vote was very light.

BOOST LOCAL MAN U. C. T. SECRETARY

John W. Callaway, member of the local council, No. 94, United Commercial Travelers, is being boosted by La Crosse men for the office of grand treasurer of the grand council, which meets Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Marshfield.

A special coach, bearing about 25 of the 50 La Crosse members who expect to attend the meeting, will be attached to the eight o'clock Northwestern train Thursday morning.

The delegates from the local council are Arthur J. Morton, Joseph P. Hurtgen and Fred A. Ruplin.

MISS KLEEBER SHOWS LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

While Charlotte Kleeber, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kleeber, is holding her own at the La Crosse hospital, there was no marked change for the better today.

FOOT ROUTS BURGLAR

CHICAGO, June 2.—Mrs. Christina Jefferson routed a barefoot burglar she had caught in her pantry today by planting the heel of a slipper firmly on his big toe.

"Why, what are you doing here?" demanded Mrs. Jefferson.

"Shovel!" smoke, managing to grin the burglar, his teeth set in a juicy pie.

Bang went the foot of Mrs. Jefferson. The burglar yelled and leaped out of a window.

MANN CLASHES WITH MURDOCK

Republican and Moose Leaders in House Quarrel Over "Amalgamation"

WASHINGTON, June 2.—During a bitter debate in the house this afternoon on the administration anti-trust bill, leaders of the republican and progressive parties clashed on the question of "amalgamation."

"Do you think there is any chance of amalgamation between a set of men who want to go forward and a set of men who dodge, and side step everything?" shouted Progressive Leader Murdock.

"There has been some talk of amalgamation between the republican party and the so-called progressives," retorted Republican Leader Mann. "But the men who voted for Colonel Roosevelt last year are coming back to the republican party. When the progressives come back there will be no more of these little leaders in the house."

Mann declared that yesterday on one of the labor amendments, the progressive members were divided.

"We are told," said Mann, "that the progressive members did not know where they stood on these amendments until they consulted Col. Roosevelt."

COURT DISSOLVES "THREAD TRUST"

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The "Thread trust" was adjudged a combination in restraint of trade and ordered dissolved by the United States district court of New Jersey, at Trenton, today. The decree is directed to ten companies.

Each of the defendants is ordered to dispose of its holdings in other companies and directors and officers are enjoined from making trade agreements.

BIG EXPLOSION IN EARLY HOURS

Residents of the eastern part of the city were roused from their slumber at an early hour this morning by a terrific explosion. Investigation proved that town officers desired to remove a large rock from the Bliss road, and blew it up before travel started this morning.

BURY MRS. SHALLER

The funeral of Mrs. J. C. Shaller, who died Saturday evening at Hartford, S. D., was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Johnson, 212 South Eighth street. Rev. Henry Andreas, pastor of the German Reformed church in Mormon Coulee, officiated.

WATCH HINDUS

It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. One dose will convince you. It usually gives wonderful relief within 24 hours—even in the most stubborn cases. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by all druggists.

SLIM GRACEFUL DESIGNS FOR NET OR CREPE.

Among the sheer, crisp materials favored for summer frocks, there is a fine meshed net; some of these nets show a printed border of pink or yellow roses or conventionalized Greek designs. Although extremely diaphanous, this material is far more durable than many other sheer stuffs. It may be made up over a foundation of liberty or soft taffetas; chiffon is often combined with it most effectively.

For simple afternoon frocks showing a pannier or puff, the Dolly Varden taffetas are quite the most fetching things imaginable, with their soft colorings and quaint flower designs. Plain silk crepes, too, are much used, as they are becoming and most practical. The tulle frock shown in Number 8370-8038 is developed in one of these silk crepes; the color is French blue and a crush girdle of black satin offers pleasing relief.

The average width of silk crepe is 38 to 40 inches, and it may be purchased from 75 cents a yard and up. To copy this frock in size 36, the blouse (8370) requires 3 3/4 yards of 36-inch material. The skirt (8038) may be made with 2 3/4 yards of 42-inch goods. Bordered net shows up very attractively in the back frock, 8367, which closes down the back, has an upstanding Medici collar and a V-shaped opening in front; the skirt is a three-piece design gathered at the top. These nets average 42 inches in width and range in price from $1.25 a yard and up. This dress requires for size 36, 3 3/4 yards of 42-inch width.

Number 8370, sizes 32 to 42.
Number 8038, sizes 14 to 18.
Number 8367, sizes 34 to 42.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

few years. The play is full of interest and sympathy and the comedy roles are not overdrawn. The cost has been coached by Jack McKain, which assures all that the young people will be well trained. The junior class has some exceptionally good play people and the parts are equal in opportunity. Music will be furnished by the West Salem orchestra.

Exhibit Work

The exhibition of the work done by the domestic science class under the supervision of Miss Leislering which was displayed in the Farmers' store window Friday and Saturday, shows something of the work they have been doing, and the instruction they have had along that line. It was beautifully done and greatly admired by the townspeople.

Mrs. May Jones has returned from La Crosse, where she spent a few days visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller and child of La Crosse, visited here Sunday with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of La Crosse spent the week end here with relatives.

Miss Hulford and Miss Leislering spent the week end at their homes in La Crosse.

Miss Ella Capper spent Saturday evening in La Crosse.

MATRIMONY ISSUE

CHICAGO, June 2.—Lieut. Gov. Barratt O'Hara, candidate for the democratic nomination to the United States senate, will make matrimony a leading issue in his coming campaign. "June is the month of brides," said O'Hara, "so I am going to pass the month traveling up and down the state urging young people to marry."

O'Hara today wrote each minister in the state, asking him to make next Sunday "Get Married Sunday." He plans to carry one or two pairs of "honeymooners" among his friends with him on the campaign.

STATE FUND DROPS

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—The general fund in the state treasury held $4,011,843.777 June 1, as compared with $4,467,355.05 May 1, and $6,171,441.41 in all funds as compared with $6,774,410.05 the month before.

HOLD FOUR BOYS ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Sparta Contestants Win Place in La Crosse Meet and Take Individual Honors as Well

SPARTA, Wis., June 2.—As a result of an escapade which was caused mostly by drink, four Sparta boys, Marvin Fitzgerald, Roy Olson, Jacob Baldwin and Lester Perham, are under arrest.

It was late Sunday morning when the last of the boys was taken in charge by Charles Millard, George King and Sheriff Vieth.

Jacob Baldwin, who has been in the navy, returned home a few weeks ago for a short stay. Marvin Fitzgerald has been out west until a few days ago, when he returned to renew old acquaintances. Whether or not the boys were connected with the robbery of Wagner's saloon is not yet known, but someone broke in the rear and tipped over a number of bottles. Evidently the intruders were frightened away for nothing else was harmed.

It is alleged that while two of the boys, Baldwin and Olson, stood guard outside the other two entered the Court street grocery, which is owned by Schwanke & Hahn, by way of the rear and helped themselves to various eatables. The four boys had been noticed together early in the evening and the city officials were on the watch for developments.

King and Millard immediately started for the homes of the other boys and took them to the lockup, where the boys confessed, it is claimed.

Sparta is Second

The eight contestants which represented Sparta at La Crosse Saturday brought home a number of medals, gold, silver and bronze, besides the cup given for individual points, which was won by Alex Nicols. He scored 13 points.

Among those who went to La Crosse to witness the meet were R. B. McCoy and family, W. F. Jefferson and son, Robert, Mr. Enchausen, Kelly Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Abel, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jefferson and son, Miss Myrtle Hofman and Mr. Taylor.

Personal

Leslie Brooks, Roy Graf, Harvey Hofman, Pat Kelly and John Youngman were in Tomah between trains Sunday.

W. R. FRENCH DYING

CHICAGO, June 2.—William R. French, director of the Chicago Art Institute, is dying today at St. Luke's hospital of cancer. Daniel Chester French, his brother, and a noted sculptor, is at his bedside.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Agent, Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

HOUSTON SCHOOL HAS EXERCISES

Teachers and Seniors Are Guests at Many Social Functions During End of School

HOUSTON, Minn., June 2.—The graduation exercises were enjoyed by a large crowd Friday evening. The stage was decorated with snowballs and a large bank made of same with the motto "Out of school life; into life's school," at the front part of the stage. Entering to the strains of music, led by a junior boy and girl, carrying a large arch of snowballs, the seniors, three in a group and dressed in gray caps and gowns, passed beneath the arch and took their places on the stage. They were followed by the faculty and board of education.

Faculty Entertained
Mr. and Mrs. Rev. Ostrem entertained the teachers Friday evening at supper.

Houston is Shocked
The vicinity was greatly aroused to hear of the sinking of the Empress as well as to know that three of its own friends were among the drowned.

Andrew Carlson, brother of Amiel Carlson of Northfield for many years has lived in this village. He had a clothing store until about four or five years ago, when he retired from the business. He had planned for the last year to return to Sweden to see old friends and relatives. He leaves his brother and a few other relatives.

John Gustavson, who had been working in Minneapolis, came to stay with his brother about two years ago. He has been working since for his brother. John had decided to go back to his home in Norway to see his mother and by reports to be married. His sister arrived here about six months ago, and both she and her brother Clarence are deeply grieved.

Alfred Johnson, or "Ulf" Johnson, as he was called, was another of the victims. He was a brother of Mrs. Thor Lee of this village, and about fifty years of age. Mr. Lee and Clarence Gustavson expect to leave today to identify the bodies of the dead.

Seniors Are Guests
Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Briggs entertained the seniors and faculty after the graduation exercises Friday evening. Ice cream and cake was served and a pleasant evening spent.

The teachers and pupils of the lower grades enjoyed picnics in the woods Friday being the last day of school.

Personals
C. C. Simonds was visiting with friends in the village Friday and Saturday.

The Misses Coralynn Hanson of Lanesboro and Verna Robinson of La Crosse, were home for the graduation exercises Friday evening.

Miss Martha and Bertha Nelson leave this week for West Salem where they will work through the summer.

Mr. Lockwood is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Thomas, Chapel.

Miss Tena Peterson spent a few days the past week at home.

Miss Jessie Olson of Rochester, Minn., is home on a visit.

Miss Anna Peterson was the guest at the J. G. Iverson home the last of the week.

Mrs. Arthur Skaar and children are visiting Mrs. Skaar's mother, Mrs. H. Harris.

Mrs. Ingvald Gustad has been visiting relatives near Rushford.

MISSION MEET HERE
CENTRAL WISCONSIN DISTRICT OF GOSPEL MISSIONS WILL HOLD CONVENTION HERE
IN OCTOBER

The fall meeting of the central western district of gospel missions will be held in La Crosse October 23 to 25, according to announcement made today by Superintendent D. C. Dewey of the La Crosse Rescue Mission.

Mr. Dewey is president of the organization. He was elected at the meeting held in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, May 13 to 17.

The May report of the mission follows:

Number of lodgings furnished, 428; free lodgings, 67; work for lodgings, 87; free baths given, 93; employment furnished outside the mission, 129; clothing given away, 62 pieces; attendance at meetings, 885; prayed with, 42; meals given away, 123; street meetings, 10.

"There is a great demand for men's clothing and the Mission clothes room is nearly empty," said Mr. Dewey today. "We would appreciate it if the good citizens when cleaning house would send the old clothing to the Mission."

"On account of the lack of work there is a lot of begging, and if the citizens would purchase tickets from the Mission and send the men there it would save them the trouble of feeding them. There are a lot of men sent to the Mission to be fed, but the people sending them should remember that it costs money to feed them and should contribute to the work or purchase the tickets from the Mission. Some good housewives have the idea that the place is supported by the city and by paying their taxes they are supporting this work."

Mr. Fred Fischer, formerly singer with "Billy" Sunday, and here two years ago with Evangelist Beadle, will sing at the Mission tonight. He is on his way to St. Paul and will stop over and spend the night with Mr. Dewey and meet his old friends at the Mission.

Congress hopes to pass laws which will make sea travel perfectly safe, but it will never be able to eliminate the mal de mer.

ECONOMICAL

SIX

$1575

There's only one scientific way to build a light "Six"
and that's the Studebaker way
—the manufactured way.

Studebaker, literally, gets lightness with doubled or trebled strength—by heat treating the steels.

The other way—the dangerous and weakening way—is to assemble parts—not heat treated, and get lightness by reducing size.

Or, sometimes, a so-called light "Six" is simply a "Six" slightly smaller than a large "Six" and practically as heavy.

The Studebaker SIX, moreover, is perfectly aligned, perfectly lubricated, perfectly balanced.

Thus friction and vibration are reduced and long life promoted.

The owner of the Studebaker light SIX, therefore, gets greater value than can be given with smaller production, in which any lowering of price necessarily means a lowering of quality.

Send for the Studebaker Proof Book, describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.

MATCH RITCHIE AND WHITE AGAIN

MILWAUKEE, June 2.—Willie Ritchie and Charlie White will meet in another ten round bout here on Labor day, under tentative arrangements announced today by local pro-motors, who said they had the consent of both fighters. Efforts are also being made to match White with Ad Wolgast, who is a great favorite here.

YOUTH KILLS BROTHER
CHICAGO, June 2.—Benjamin
Smith, 18, shot and killed his brother er Fred, 27, early today in a quarrel over the division of some property.

PLANS 300 MILES WORK

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 2.—
The Columbia crew today was to have its first spin of the year on the historic course here. In preparation for the regatta on June 26, Coach Rice plans to give his crew 300 miles of work, or an average of fifteen miles daily.

CUP DEFENDERS TO RACE TODAY

NEW YORK, June 2.—Something of the merits of two of the American yachts which are entered to defend the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV will be developed today. Alexander S. Cochrane's contender Vanitie and the Her-reshoff-uilt Resolute will clash early in the afternoon off Greenwich, L.

I. Early today a great fleet of pleasure boats assembled to see the flyers start.

Owing to the snapping of her mast the Defiance will not be in today's event. She will fight it out with the Resolute and Vanitie, or one of them later.

BLAMES AUTOS FOR SLUMP

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 2.—The automobile craze is blamed for the poor showing of the Cleveland Naps, the American league tailenders, in a sport page editorial by the sporting editor of the Cleveland Press today.
Speaking of Birmingham's men, he says:

"They drive to the baseball park in automobiles, drive home in them, and spend their spare time touring the streets. When the automobile fever infected the Naps, the club began to lose its effectiveness. That was last year. The craze spread—every player secured a car—and the team began to go back."

ENZENROTH TO FEDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 2.—C.
H. Enzenroth, catcher for the St.
Louis Browns, has jumped to the Kansas City Federals and will join the team here this afternoon. President C. C. Madison of the Kansas City club announced today.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 2.—Catcher Enzenroth, who signed with the Kansas City Federals has been unconditionally released and was a free agent, according to President Hedges of the Browns.

MEADOWBROOK, L. I., June 2.—
Both American and British polo players of the teams which will contest here for the International polo trophy on June 9 will go through practice games here this afternoon. The Americans will practice on No. 2 field while the British will gallop their mounts over the championship space.

PASS EXEMPTION LAW

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Without a dissenting vote the house late yesterday afternoon amended the proposed administration anti-trust law to exempt labor unions from action under the Sherman law. There were 207 affirmative votes on the administration's compromise committee amendment.

His Successor.

Shortly after the death of one of England's greatest poets a devoted admirer of his visited the little Westmorland village where the poet had lived and died to gaze reverently at his house, the little church and at some of his favorite haunts where some of his immortal poems were composed.

Seeing an old man (a native of the village), the stranger entered into conversation with him, remarking sadly on the death of the poet, to which the old man answered kindly and encouragingly:

"Aye, aye. Still I mak' no doubt but t' we'll carry the bizness on."—London Mail.

"My husband is very easy to please." "I knew that the minute I saw you."—Buffalo Express.

LOOK FOR FREE SPEECH RIOTING

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 2.—Tense with excitement and the fear of serious trouble when expected "free speech" advocates arrive here from New York to continue their wordy warfare against John D. Rockefeller, all Tarrytown today prepared to receive the invaders.

Four or five hundred I. W. W. members from New York are expected. The fire department of the town today had its hose all ready for a quick connection. Extra men have been sworn in as policemen.

Leonard Abbott, head of the Ferrer association in New York; Alexander Berkman, companion of Emma Goldman, the anarchist, and Helen Harris, known from her flaming hair as "Helen of Troy," are expected to be directors of the invasion.

WIND DAMAGES STATE FAIR PARK

MILWAUKEE, June 2. — Members of the state agricultural board today figured that they would have to appropriate about $75,000 to rebuild fair ground structures destroyed in a hurricane here late yesterday.
The high wind caused about $200,000 damage in the vicinity of Milwaukee and endangered many lives. Outside the city the damage was unknown, because of wire trouble. Much damage was done in Washington park, which was filled with Sunday visitors.

WEATHER ENDS DEATERS' ROW

The normal school debaters' row is over.
Arguments concerning judges, time, place and all the other factors in the row, were forgotten this morning, when the difficulty was settled. The way out adopted by the debaters was simple.
There won't be any debate.
They called it off until next year.
Members of the Eclectic and Webstorian societies said this morning that it was too hot to debate anyway, besides being too warm to fight.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. RAISE TEXAS STEERS IN RIVER BOTTOMS

Under the name of the Chippewa Land & Cattle company a clique of Minneapolis capitalists have started a stock farm in the Chippewa bottoms between Nelson and Pepin, Wis. Texas cattle is being imported, will be fattened and turned onto the St. Paul market. Sixteen car loads, totaling about 800 head, were unloaded there by the Burlington this morning.

WATERFALL ON STAGE

Stage Manager William Freise of the Majestic theater, is today accepting numerous compliments upon the beauty of the setting he has contrived for the Majestic's stage for its summer run in motion pictures. The stage is decorated with evergreens, and to the right is a waterfall, with colored light shining in the water. To the left is a rustic bridge and the whole combines to form a restful and cool looking picture.

DROP BABY 100 FEET

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 2.—Search was instituted here today for the person or persons who early today dropped a new born baby from the Grand Avenue viaduct. The infant was crushed in the 100 foot fall.

UNCLE SAM URGES CO-OP LAUNDRIES

He Is Trying to Solve the Monday Washday Problem for Farmers' Wives

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Monday washday is the bugaboo for farmers' wives which Uncle Sam is trying to ameliorate. Co-operative laundering is the solution he suggests.

This semi-domestic problem is receiving the personal attention of Secretary of Agriculture Houston himself. He is attempting to abolish the "blue" Monday for Mrs. Rural Housekeeper.

An example of the success of the department's efforts is cited at Chatfield, Minn. There the farmers started a laundry in connection with a big creamery. They paid rent to the creamery for a portion of the building, put in a lot of laundry machinery and hired an experienced laundryman to manage their joint co-operative venture.

The Chatfield laundry is operated on the "pound rate" basis. Five cents a pound is the uniform schedule. This laundry has now been in operation a year and its profits are estimated at 70 cents. Laundry of all sorts has been taken.

Dividends of 10 per cent were paid the participants reducing the cost of their laundry considerably. The stockholders who put up the money have in addition been paid an extra six per cent, leaving a wide margin for depreciation and a sinking fund.

The surrounding farm families have seemed anxious to patronize the "farm" laundry. It relieves them of the Monday burden and also at a cheaper rate than could be done by hiring local labor.

The department is advertising the success of the Chatfield co-operative laundry, spreading the idea that other farm communities may adopt it.

Another scheme for solving the Monday problem suggested by the department is in co-operation with the post office department. "Use the parcel post" is the advice of the postoffice officials. They are advertising the advantages of farmers sending their laundry, at least their "billed" shirts to city laundries by parcel post, but this is far more expensive than the co-operation laundry plan.

Glanders vaccine is not effective in immunizing from this dangerous disease, according to a report of department of agriculture experts and specialists, following extensive experiments with horses and other animals.

The report states that "mallein" is highly effective in discovering the presence of glanders in horses, but neither mallein nor the glanders vaccine has shown "any positive value" in curing animals sick with the disease.

In the experiments 17 horses were used. They were housed so that vaccinated and unvaccinated horses were brought in contact. Mallein and eye tests were used.

Of 13 immunized animals, the department's report found, nine contracted the disease from natural exposure, which is a large proportion. In artificial vaccinations of vaccinated animals, they showed no resistance whatever.

"For the present, therefore, it seems advisable," the department advises, "to abstain from immunizing horses by this method. The control and eradication of glanders must still be dependent upon the concentration of our efforts in eliminating infected horses and the adoption of proper precautions against the introduction of infected animals into stables free from the disease."

Honey bees are of little value in aiding alfalfa seed crop, experts of the department of agriculture have found. Efforts are being made to propagate and disseminate bees which are of particular value in ripening alfalfa for seed purposes.

The alfalfa seed industry is growing and offers a new field for farmers wishing to specialize, the department reports.

Alfalfa seed worth $676,600 was imported last year. The department believes the United States should produce all of its own seed. The principal growers of seed are now located in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah and Montana.

500 TO DANCE ABOUT MAYPOLE

More than 500 children from the kindergartens of the city will participate in the Maypole festival to be given next Thursday afternoon at Myrick park. Special cars will be provided to carry the children to the park from the schools. The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The children will be in charge of the kindergarten directors and the assistants. The normal school band will play in the afternoon. Following is the program:

Garland march by all kindergartens.

Swedish dance by Lincoln and Hogan kindergartens.

Dutch dance by Hamilton and Webster kindergartens.

"Chimes of Dunkirk," by all the children attending the afternoon kindergarten classes.

"Oats," Peas, Beans and Barley Grow," farmers' game by Franklin kindergarten.

Bohemian folk dance by Jefferson and Logan kindergartens.

Sing song by Washington, Washburne and Normal kindergartens.

May pole dance by each kindergarten.

In order that the different classes may be distinguished, the following system of colors was chosen for the May pole and banners:

Webster, yellow and white.
Washburne, orange and white.
Washington, light blue and white.
Logan, red and white.
Jefferson, violet and white.
Lincoln, pink and white.
Franklin, navy blue and white.

IOWA VOTES TODAY

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 1.—Voters of all parties are at the polls today voting for their choice of five thousand candidates for all offices from United States senator to constable. Despite cool, pleasant weather, a light vote is expected because farmers are in the field. Senator A. B. Cummins is expected to defeat Senator Savage for the republican nomination for United States senator, and Governor George W. Clarke is likely to be renominated over Judge Lee and Rowley. In the democratic fight there is much bitterness between the friends of E. T. Meredith, Des Moines publisher, and Congressman Maurice Connolly of Dubuque, candidates for United States senator.

CALL GOVERNOR'S TRIAL

TOPEKA, Kan., June 2.—The case of Luella West of Wichita against Governor George H. Hodges for an alleged attack in the governor's office when it is charged the governor struck Mrs. West when she attempted to carry away some copies of private correspondence was called in the Shawnee county court today. The charges are denied by the governor.

Morse will tell all he knows and when we have heard that and added to it all the doctors know, let the evidence be submitted to Professor Taft for a decision.

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast
By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.
There is no warm bread quite as appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as if raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; 1 level teaspoonful K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 2 tablespoons full sugar; 1 egg; milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups; stir all together with inverted spoon to a stiff batter. Turn into biscuit pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

Dutch Apple Cake or Prune Kuchen can be made with this same batter by covering the top with pared and sliced apples, or cooked prunes with the pits removed, skin sides down. Dredge with sugar and cinnamon the same as for Coffee Cake.

"The Cook's Book" contains 90 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

ASK WILSON TO SAVE DYNAMITERS

Final Appeal for Executive Clemency Is Made to the President Today

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The final appeal for executive clemency for the convicted dynamite conspirators was made to President Wilson today. He was asked to pardon Frank M. Ryan, former president and twenty-nine former officials and agents of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, by a delegation, including Senators Lewis of Illinois; Hughes of New Jersey; representatives Sabath and Gorman of Illinois; Keating of Colorado, and Hamill of New Jersey. They brought with them in a huge black leather suitcase petitions signed by more than 100,000 persons.

Attorney E. N. Zollne, Senator Lewis and President Sabath, united in the verbal appeal to the president. The president took the application under advisement.

MOTORCYCLISTS HELP TO SWELL MITCHEL FUND

Motorcycle riders, on a picnic Sunday, collected a generous offering, which today was turned over to F. H. Hankerson, at the First National bank, for the widow and ten orphans of John Mitchell, Mormon Coulee road farmer struck and killed by a motorcycle two weeks ago.

The motorcyclists held their picnic at Blumer's Mills. The occasion was the birthday of A. H. Gross. The riders started from Gross' garage at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, stringing out in single file 100 feet apart. They made a procession two miles long going out the Mormon Coulee road.

A feature of the outing was a baseball game between the "Indians" and the "Harley-Davids." The latter won, 3 to 2.

ALL BUILDINGS INSURED

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—C. E. Bennett and C. A. Halbert of the state insurance department and Secretary J. C. Mackenzie of the state board of agriculture will go to Milwaukee this afternoon to look over the losses caused Sunday afternoon by the cyclone at the state fair ground. The buildings are all insured in the state fund, which is ample to cover all losses. The big concrete cattle barn, four dining halls, the frame sheep judging pavilion, the entrance gate and most of the fences were blown down.

Many a man who feels that he is a born leader only succeeds in setting a bad example.
